T.C. MILLER

Director of Engineering | Cubic - GATR Technologies

Over an 18-year career, T.C. has had the privilege to support incredible teams. Following 9/11, T.C. enlisted in the United States Army and supported the world's most elite Special Operations Forces in a Military Intelligence role. During three combat deployments, he was afforded the opportunity to witness the power of great teams in action. After separating from the Army in 2008, T.C. and his wife, Teri, began calling Huntsville home. He eventually found a familiar team environment after being selected for Leadership Huntsville's Connect program. This served as a springboard for greater community involvement and resulted in volunteer opportunities with organizations such as Leadership Huntsville, Downtown Forty Seven, Downtown Huntsville Inc, and the Committee of 100 YP. Now serving as the Director of Engineering for GATR Technologies, T.C., Teri, and their daughter, Macy, are happily supporting their church, local business, and anything Macy sets her mind to.
